TECHNICAL INFORMATION

The Seti rug is a sophisticated textile complement, made entirely from bamboo silk, hand-woven using the traditional Tibetan method. Bamboo silk is a sustainable fibre that retains the main properties of silk, preserving its shine and silky softness while guaranteeing greater strength, flexibility and handleability. The Seti rug is characterised by a neutral, but bright tone, which changes colour depending on the light.

PRODUCT DETAILS:

Composition: 100% bamboo silk

Seti is a hand knotted rug with the technique of Tibetan knots, typical manufacturing process and craftsmanship. Made entirely of bamboo silk, a fibre derived from an alternative source to the silkworm but keeping the main characteristics of the original silk. It is environmentally friendly and remembers the same lustre giving a velvet touch to fleece. The Texture is characterized by neutral colours changing depending on the light and relaxing look.

The result is a sleek, understated, shining and natural, perfect for decorating spaces in search of contact with nature and harmony. Bamboo silk carpets resist well to domestic users, but require extra attention for cleaning and maintenance. Shedding is frequent in hand-knotted carpets given the craftsmanship especially in the early periods of use.
