TECHNICAL INFORMATION

Designed by Sebastiano Tosi.

Date of launch: 2024.

The modular Radice system draws inspiration from the majesty of trees in nature. With its metal components rising upwards, Radice represents a perfect combination of strength and natural beauty. Each element of the system is designed to evoke the structure and resilience of trees, creating an environment that reflects harmony and stability. Radice is a furniture system designed to incorporate elements of nature into your home.

Radice Modular System

The Radice modular system, by Natuzzi Italia, represents a versatile and innovative solution for home furnishing. This system has been designed to easily adapt to different needs and spaces, offering flexible configurations for both living and sleeping areas.

Radice features structural uprights in painted aluminum, available in two heights, enriched by a golden aluminum insert that runs along the perimeter, adding light and character to the design with a harmonious mix of materials and finishes. Thanks to its modular identity and the possibility of wall mounting, Radice allows the creation of customized volumes and configurations by combining shelves, shelves, and storage units.

The system includes versatile elements such as storage box units and drawers, enriching the compositions with practical and functional solutions. The modularity of Radice allows creating perfectly tailored environments, meeting the most varied needs: equipped spaces for TV and Hi-Fi systems, chests of drawers, wall units, or simple shelves to create a library area.
